Bethel to study consolidation of sewer and water districts

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen wants a committee to take a hard look at the possibility of combining the town's sewer and water utilities.

The selectmen voted unanimously last week to advertise for five volunteers to study the question.

Currently the town's Sewer District is part of town government, but the Water District is an independent entity governed by a three-member board of trustees and the regulations of the various state agencies, including the Maine Public Utilities Commission.

Given the similarity between the functions of the two districts — one delivering water to residences and businesses, the other taking that water and waste, away — there has long been on-again, off-again discussion of saving money by merging the two.

At a public hearing in July, on a proposed increase in sewer rates, Dutch Dresser, a former chairman of the Board of Selectmen, urged the current selectmen to look into consolidation.

"We really owe the ratepayers a responsible look at how those two entities might be cooperatively merged," Dresser said. "For many years we've noticed the similarity in work between the Water District and the sewer district. It seems to me that those of us who pay both the Water and Sewer districts deserve to have you folks commission an objective study of any advantage that might be had by combining, somehow, those two entities."

Proponents of consolidation argue that savings could be found in combining some two districts' administrative functions — such as billing, and in better coordinating capital projects, especially those that involve digging up town roads.

"Streets, water, sewer and drainage — they all involve excavation," said Town Manager Scott Cole, a proponent of consolidation.

And, presumably, having a unified administrative structure would also improve communication.

For many years the relation-

Forest Service tears down two backcountry buildings used as overnight shelters

A ramshackle wooden cabin known as Spider Camp and the remains of a cinderblock building formerly used for cold weather research have been removed from the backcountry area of Wild River Valley in the White Mountain National Forest.

According to U.S. Forest Service District Ranger Katie Stuart, neither building was needed any longer and both had fallen into extreme disrepair. "These structures outlived their administrative usefulness and were a safety hazard to anyone who entered them," Stuart said. Stuart hopes that anyone who knew of and used the buildings will take note of their removal and make alternate overnight plans when visiting the national forest.

'Spider Camp' and former cold-weather research building, both in Wild River Valley, were deemed safety hazards.

Spider Camp was a former log scaling shack that was moved to the edge of Baldface Brook in the 1950s under a special use permit with New Hampshire Fish and Game. It served as a warden's cabin until the 1970s, and has had no official use since the late 1980s. The cold weather research building sat above the river just south of the Wild River Campground. It was constructed by the U.S. Army for a research project in the 1950s, and then abandoned.

Although both buildings were tucked away in the forest and accessible only by bushwhacking, Stuart noted that some recreational use of Spider Camp occurred regularly through the years. "A handful SOARING ON SONGO—Wakeboarder Andy Baker does an off-axis 180 trick on Songo Pond. Baker honed his skills on Songo and in Florida, making himself into a top competitor in New England and earning a job performing at Sea World in Texas. He will appear on an upcoming "Bill Green's Maine" on Channel 6.

Riding high from Songo to Sea World

By ALISON ALOISIO

Andy Baker, 21, found his passion for wakeboarding on Songo Pond, took it to Sea World in Texas, and has now returned to his roots as the sport's "older guy" in regional competitions.

His talent on the waves has also earned him an appearance on Channel 6, on an upcoming "Bill Green's Maine."

Baker grew up across the the state line in Shelburne, N.H.

But since he was little, his family has spent summers on Songo Pond in Albany. He's a familiar face around Bethel, where he has worked a variety of jobs.

Baker learned to waterski when he was 5. At 12, he tried wakeboarding, and he was hooked.

It's hard to put a finger on the sport's appeal, he said.

"I guess just the room for individuality. There are so many ways it can be done, and there is always something else you can learn," Baker said.

When it was clear his interest was more than a passing one, his family invested in a boat designed for wakeboarding. The craft produces a particularly large wake.

He became a regular sight on Songo, practicing jumps and flips, and suffering the in-

For Pam Rugg a journey of 2,175 miles begins with losing 85 pounds

By ALISON ALOISIO

Pam Rugg, 59, of Albany will hike the Appalachian Trail next year even though, as she says, "I didn't want to do it."

But she's motivated to make the 2,175-mile trek on a bet she made with her husband, Carleton. He's hiked the entire trail.

Rugg is probably preparing for her odyssey a little more than the average hiker: she's almost halfway to losing a planned 85 pounds.

Step 1: Get healthy

Rugg has been generally active for many years, cross-country skiing in the winter and taking long motorcycle trips in the summer with Carleton.

This past January, while wintering in Florida, Rugg started exercising more seriously at "Curves," with the simple goal of improving her health.

After about six weeks, she said, she considered the possibility she could get in good enough shape to hike the trail. That's when her husband challenged her to try the hike, and she agreed.

"He's excited I'm doing it," she said.

Rugg returned to Maine in April, and contin-

G'wood's attorney says Round Pond rental for up to 25 not a 'hotel'

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Is Round Pond Station a hotel, or isn't it? Greenwood planners are trying to decide.

The complex of four buildings (a main house and three smaller structures) has been marketed on the Internet as accommodating up to 25 people.

In peak — summer — season it rents for $5,000 a week.

Nonetheless the town attorney said that based on the information available to him the property does not qualify as a hotel (which would make it subject to site plan review by the Planning Board).

'Unfortunately, I have to disagree wholeheartedly with our attorney.'

DAVE BRAINARD
Planning Board member

In a letter to the board, attorney Al Perry of South Paris described the status of the property as "a close question."

But, Perry said, he did not believe the use that the owner, Jonathan Wells of Ocean Park, was making of the property rose "to the commercial level of a hotel, motel, inn or similar use."

"The primary factor," Perry said, "is the lack of a business motive or business structure; the use is said to be not for profit but only to assist with the acquisition of the property."

Planning Board member Dave Brainard sees things a bit differently.

"Unfortunately, I have to disagree wholeheartedly with our attorney," Brainard said at a board meeting Monday. "The lack of a business motive doesn't really apply."

Even Wells' attorney, Gary Polman of Portland, appeared puzzled by Perry's conclusion.

"I don't know how he came up with that," Polman said. "I don't think we ever said we were a non-profit group."

Brainard said that given the murkiness of the definition of hotel, "it's not possible to come to an analytical decision, so it's up to [the Planning Board] to come to a decision."

To help do that, the board asked Town Manager Kim Sparks to set up a meeting with Perry and the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments.

In the meantime, Wells has addressed another problem with the property its septic permits.

Round Pond Station currently has permits for only four bedrooms, not the eight that have been advertised on various Internet sites.

But on Monday Wells submitted plans for septic expansion that would accommodate up to 10 bedrooms.

He is also in the process of changing his advertising on various Internet sites, Sparks said, to reflect the fact that only four bedrooms can currently be rented.

DIDN'T HEAR BACK FROM BETHEL

To the Editor:
Just to clarify last week's article about the complex issue of byways eligibility for Tr. 113 and Route 2.
Western Maine Cultural Alliance, with the help of its partners and the byways program, did substantial research into the issues raised at the byways informational meeting in Bethel on May 10. Every single question raised at the meeting was answered by e-mail, snail mail and/or phone, even in person. Answers were delivered to all who attended, with additional follow-up in several instances, and to all Bethel selectmen who did not attend as well as Bethel's town manager.
For the last six months, repeated attempts have been made to engage Bethel's leadership in a dialogue on this subject, but nothing was ever heard back from them. WMCA proposed a meeting specifically inviting all naysayers and arranging for byways experts to be present, but the meeting was cancelled by Bethel's Town Office with no invitation for the future.
For those who would like more information, you can visit www.westernmaineculture.org/byways. Among other items, the Federal Highway Administration's definitive statement that byways do not impede property rights is there. Also, a detailed statement from the director of the Rangeley National Scenic Byway on how and why this experience has been so positive.

'VOCAL MINORITY'?

To the Editor:
Last week's Citizen quoted Toni Seger, a proponent of the Scenic Byways program as follows: "My perception is the public discussion in Bethel has been stifled by a very strong, very vocal minority that have simply intimidated the larger population."
Does it occur to Ms. Seger that just possibly what really happened was a small group of the real stakeholders did a much better job laying out their case than she and the Western Maine Cultural Alliance did? The paucity of information she presented left those attending with more questions than answers.
Another possibility, that this small group (vocal) actually represents a silent majority in the town of Bethel.
I have read the National Scenic Byways Program produced by the Federal Highway Administration. There is a sufficient amount of ambiguous language that leaves plenty of room for interpretation by a "local committee."
I, like many others, am an unapologetic supporter of individual property rights. The apparent detouring of the Scenic Byways only highlights how strong opposition to "groupthink" is.
Thank you to the Bethel selectmen for their reappraisal of the Scenic Byways letter of recommendation and the opportunity for the stakeholders to be heard on this important decision.

A WONDERFUL COMMUNITY

To the Editor:
I would like to thank everyone who helped with, participated in, and contributed to the candlelight vigil for Julie, Selby, Cindy and James.
It brought light not only to those whom we've lost, but to the caring community we live in. Many contributed and more were there to share. It helped me turn the page of a very disturbing chapter in my life. I would like to thank Robin Mills especially — not only for her efforts in organizing and participating in the vigil, but for taking in Leila and Elliot when they needed care, and opening her home to the many caring people who came with hugs, kind words, prayers, cards, food, toys, crafts, flowers and kids to play with.
I really saw what so many have already said, that we have a wonderful community here. Thank you.

WODKA BENEFIT THANKS

To the Editor:
These words seem so small and inadequate for the overwhelming turnout at the benefit supper/dance given for me on Sept. 9th, at the Locke Mills Legion Hall.
When I walked in, I could feel the love pouring out of all the beautiful faces. I have been truly blessed to have so many people who love me and give me the extra support when I need it.
I thank each one of you for donating your time and money for me. Special thanks to Kim and Fran Shannon, all the churches, the merchants (for the wonderful donations to the Chinese auction), Sam Chapman and musicians and my loving family. The money is a great help, since the medical bills add up so quickly. The emotional support that you give me will last forever.
My body is weak, but my spirit is soaring thanks to all of you, and I hope that you will someday experience the joy you have given me.
Love to you always.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT

To the Editor:
To my fellow community members.
I can't express my appreciation and gratitude for your support to Leila Magee and Elliot Bullard during such a disturbing and sensitive situation. Your immediate presence and heartwarming encouragement to Leila, Elliot and my family could not have been greater. Without your support, I would not have been able to handle some of the immediate behind-the-scenes communications with the Bullard family on their behalf.
Your generosity and bearing of food and gifts for my family and the children is truly an example of a community that unites under crises. This is one of many reasons that Cindy, Julie, Selby and myself chose to relocate to Bethel.
The Memorial Funds for both families are another example of the giving spirits in all of you and your donations are very appreciated.
The address of Post Office Box 615, Bethel, ME 04217 has been established for Elliot, Leila and family, should you have any written communications to forward.
Again, thanks from the bottom of my heart.

SKATEBOARDERS, CAN WE LOSE THE LITTER?

To the Editor:
This is a request for help from skateboarders using the town's skateboard park along the Pathway.
Please remove all of your beverage containers and food wrappers when you leave, so that other Pathway users' enjoyment is not reduced by being confronted with unsightly trash.
Beverage containers can best be taken with you for later donation to local students' fundraising activities. Other trash can be put in the onsite trash barrel. Parents of skateboarders are asked to assist by talking with their teenagers about this.
Let us all do our part to keep Bethel beautiful.

THANKS FOR WEEDING THE ROADS AND SIDEWALKS

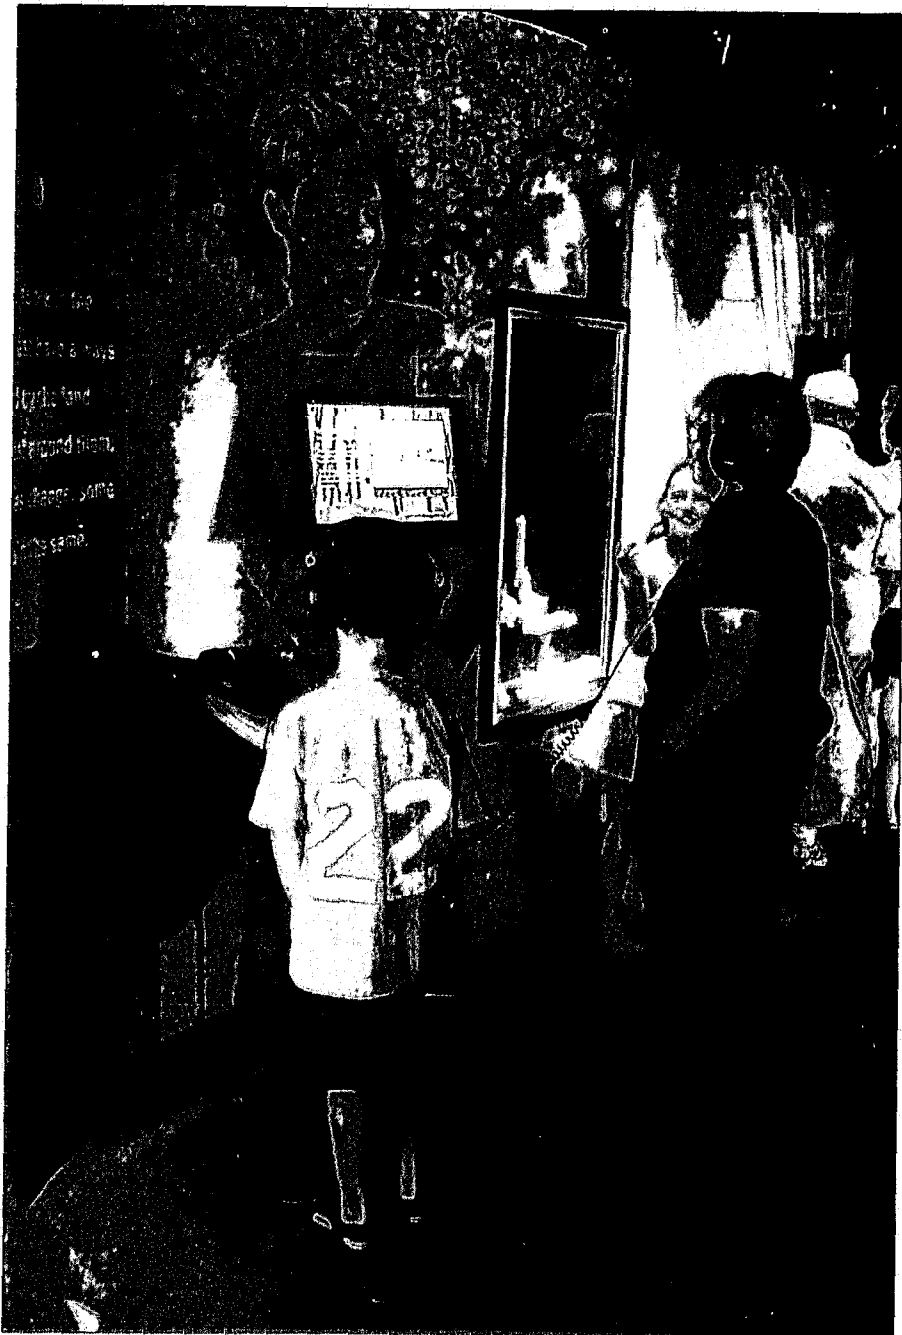

To the Editor:
Over the summer, the weeds along the sidewalks leading up to Main Street and on Main Street itself have become quite an eyesore, making the street look uncared for and taking away from the beauty of the hanging baskets. Observant eyes will note that a significant portion of those sidewalks have been cleared of weeds and look a lot better.
We have Key Bank personnel, Marjorie Osgood, Colleen Files, and Jennifer Bean to thank for this improvement. Last Thursday (Sept. 14), they participated in Key Bank's annual "Neighbor Day" and took on the task of pulling some pretty hefty weeds out of the edges of the walks and even sweeping up the loosened dirt. They started at the intersection of the Parkway and Route 26 and got as far as Books 'n Things on Main Street, before running out of time.
This isn't the first time that Key Bank personnel have given their time to benefit the community; Neighbor Day happens every year and they have assisted the Conservation Commission in projects at the Pathway twice before. It is nice to know that a local business cares about the community in which it is located, and that individuals care enough to take on tasks like this. So, if you happen to be passing Key Bank on Main Street, stop in and thank Marjorie, Jen, and Colleen for their efforts.

RECKLESS AND IRRESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT

To the Editor:
To Ms. Willard (Letter to the Editor, Sept. 7), I can only say, that she may be sending more money to Washington than she is to Augusta but she is sending more money to Augusta than any other state in the Union. It is no distinction to be the most highly taxed state in America.
I find it interesting that the proof that she uses against the Taxpayers Bill of Rights is a litany of publicly supported jobs. Firemen, policemen, county workers, educators, and governmental employees across the board are clearly opposed to the Taxpayers Bill of Rights.
As an aside, I would like to say that almost all of us would be more than willing to give teachers a pay raise. Our objections have nothing to do with what our teachers are paid (amongst the lowest in the country) but rather we have a problem with a school system that continues to have a shrinking population and an escalating budget. It makes no sense.
What in fact is reckless and irresponsible is a government that continues to spend money it does not have. We have a debt of some six billion dollars with a population of about 1,200,000. We simply cannot afford to continue to spend this way.
Taxpayers Bill of Rights cuts nothing. I say again — Taxpayers Bill of Rights cuts nothing. The worst that can happen is that the budget will be flat funded with increases tied to population and inflation, just the way you run your business and your home but not the way you run the government, if you run short of money, just tax the people more.
We have Dirigo, an absolute failure with regard to its mission. It was supposed to enroll some 25,000 people in the first year and it barely made 13,000. We have more uninsured people now than we did before Dirigo and we owe hospitals for services rendered about $15,000,000. Hospitals are using their credit lines in order to meet payroll and may be forced to not accept Dirigo patients or go out of business.
Those of us who have insurance, have been charged a further tax in order to support Dirigo. When does the overburdened taxpayer get some relief?
It would be nice if our legislators could go to Augusta and do the best job possible for all in Maine but that is not how it is. If it were, we would not need the Taxpayers Bill of Rights.
We are a sanctuary state, we are the most taxed state in the Union, we have a horrid economic climate, we are terribly in debt and we have the second highest healthcare costs in the country and all this because we have a House, a Senate and the chief executive office filled with Democrats. The party that never saw a tax or fee they did not like and the party that believes the Golden Goose, or the Maine Taxpayer in other words, can afford to continue to go to work and support their Socialist agenda. The agenda that believes that is a system "of the government, by the government, and for the government."
Perhaps Ms. Willard should be quoting Marx instead of Abraham Lincoln, a Republican by the way.

'THE WAYS OF THE WOODS:
People and the Land in the Northern Forest' mobile exhibition made a stop in Bethel during the Harvest Fest weekend. On Thursday and Friday, about 250 area school students visited. The project, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, was created largely in Bethel, according to Mike Wilson of the Northern Forest Center. It is housed in an 18-wheeler truck. The exhibits have two purposes: to help people understand and appreciate the forest-based heritage of the Northern Forest region of northern Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and New York; and to encourage people to look for opportunities to work across the region in dealing with changes in the economy and land ownership. The exhibit has been on the road since August, and will continue to travel across the region until winter.

'SPIDER CAMP' was one of two dilapidated buildings in the Wild River Valley that have been torn down by the U.S. Forest Service. (Photo: U.S.F.S.)

of folks were aware of this dilapidated cabin and were using it as overnight shelter. It was not intended or maintained for public use, and after decades of weather and decay, it did not begin to meet minimum health and safety standards," Stuart says. She also notes that the White Mountain National Forest's recreation management approach is to reduce backcountry development levels where it's appropriate to do so. "Spider Camp's off-trail location, costly repair needs, and very limited usefulness to the public all played into our decision to remove it rather than attempt to save it." In addition, the area is managed to protect Wilderness characteristics and is currently being considered for designation. Structures are inconsistent with wilderness values as outlined in the Wilderness Act of 1964.

The buildings' historic values were evaluated prior to removal. "We recognize that even though the structures themselves were beyond repair and of no physical value, their histories should be preserved as part of the evolving story of the land we manage," said Forest Archeologist Karl Roenke. Photos, maps, and a variety of documents that track the buildings' histories will be retained for posterity.

Both building sites will be cleaned up of debris and rehabilitated with native vegetation.

The Forest Service advises all backcountry visitors to be prepared with the right gear for overnight camping, even when hiking in areas with backcountry shelters. "There is no guarantee that there will be room when you get there, so be sure to pack a tent or tarp along with your sleeping bag, food, water, and layers of proper clothing for protection from the unpredictable mountain weather," says Stuart. Visit www.hikeSafe.com for a gear list and other tips for safe backcountry travel.

At 11 a.m. ACO Mac McCormick was contacted by a subject on Songo Pond Road who wanted to dispose of two cats and an ill dog. The officer advised him he must bring the animals to a shelter himself, and warned him that abandoning them is a violation of the law. The ACO did a follow up call the next day. The subject said he had gotten rid of the animals, but refused to say how.

At 4 p.m. Officer Jack Taylor responded to the Chandler Hill Road for a report of stolen property.

At 6:07 p.m. Officer Jack Taylor responded to the Chandler Hill Road for four-wheelers racing up and down the road. The officer found one broken down on the side of the road. The operator said he was the only one, and he had been going from trail to trail. He was warned to enter and exit within 1,500 feet on the road.

At 4:49 p.m. Officer Jack Taylor responded to a business for a welfare check on a subject. The subject was gone on arrival.

Thursday, Sept. 14

At 2:55 a.m. Officer Mac McCormick assisted Bethel Rescue on Main Street with a subject lying in the street with a head injury. A witness said he had fallen backward, striking his head on the pavement.

Wednesday, Sept. 13

At 11:50 a.m. Officer Phil Taylor responded to the McCrillis Brook Road for a report of equipment stolen at a residence.

At 3:42 p.m. Officers Mac McCormick and Buddy Richard responded to Vernon Street for a report of cows in the road. On arrival the owner said someone had opened the gate and let the animals out. He had already gotten them back into the pasture.

At 11:50 p.m. Officer Mac McCormick assisted two county deputies in Woodstock with subjects who were out of control.

Districts

ship between the Water District and the selectmen has been bedeviled by bad communication.

The selectmen appoint the water district trustees, but have frequently complained that those same trustees return little in the way of communication or cooperation.

In January 2002 the situation reached the point where the selectmen refused to reappoint an incumbent trustee — John Gray, who was then serving as chairman of the trustees.

"The frustration just came to a head," said then Selectman Al Barth at the time. "Over the past two years, the selectmen, through the town manager and individually, wanted some answers to questions about how we could work together and we weren't getting them."

Elect or appoint?

John Head, a 25-year veteran of the Water District Board of Trustees (and currently its chair) was also at the public hearing in July.

Head said he could support consolidation of the two districts, "but with one great big proviso."

The new, combined entity, he said, "should not have an appointed board, it should have an elected board."

Dresser countered by arguing that if a study committee were to be formed, it should stick to the financial implications of consolidation — and leave governance for later discussion.

"In your initial charge to the committee leave governance out of it," he urged the selectmen.

"Governance is a political football," Dresser said, "so keep the politics out of it and just look at whether a merged entity would be more cost effective."

Applications

Last week's vote to establish an ad hoc committee to look at the "feasibility of consolidating the water and sewer utilities of the town" was unanimous.

The scope of the committee's charge (e.g., whether or not to include governance) has not been further delineated, Scott Cole said.

Applications for the five committee seats will be taken until noon, Oct. 13. For more information call the Town Office at 824-2669 or e-mail info@bethelmaine.org.

ued her workouts at Ellie's Workout Express in Bethel — six days a week, two-and-one-half-hours a day.

So far, she's lost 40 pounds. "I plan to lose another 45," she said.

"She's an inspiration to others," said Ellie Andrews, the fitness center owner.

Rugg's regimen, suggested by her chiropractor, begins at 5:40 a.m. "I've always been an early morning person," she said.

She spends 45 minutes on a step machine, doing the equivalent of 363 "floors," nine steps per floor. Then she goes to a rowing machine, designed to prepare her back muscles for carrying a 40-pound backpack. She spends 20 minutes there.

That's followed by three miles on an elliptical machine. She finishes with three repetitions of the center's 30-minute rotation around 20 pieces of equipment.

"I try to beat my own records," she said.

On the step machine, that means aiming for 400 floors.

In addition to losing weight, Rugg has experienced another positive effect from the workout.

"I've had disk trouble since the 1980s. It's really improved with exercise," she said. "My chiropractor said it's getting so I almost don't need the treatments."

Rugg said her workouts have almost become addictive. After she had to take a week off to care for her grandson, she said, "I couldn't wait to get back."

Itinerary

She plans to hike the trail in three parts, the first starting in Georgia in March. She and Carleton expect to cover about 100 miles a week and reach the vicinity of Virginia in June.

They'll suspend the trek there for a time, then resume for September and October.

They'll take the winter off, and finish at Mt. Katahdin in the summer of 2008.

Going along on the hike with the couple will be their eight-pound, 9-year-old Pomeranian, Grizzly, who is also a veteran of the motorcycle trips.

Rugg's friends at Ellie's will be tracking the trek every step of the way. Andrews has purchased a large map of the trail and will pinpoint Rugg's locations and progress.

"We're trying to get the whole club involved," said Andrews. "Everyone is so supportive of her."

evitable crashes.

But he got better — a lot better. He started participating in regional competitions.

His "game plan" was, and still is, a laid-back one.

"I don't really do any special training for my competitions," he said. "I've always just tried to go out and have fun. Lots of people plan out their whole run for a competition, but I just go out and do whatever feels good at the time. I love the drive I get from competition," he said.

"Some of my favorite tricks are the less complicated ones. It's a lot of fun adding your own style to an easy trick, making it hard and cooler looking and feeling."

Learning in Florida

Several years ago, he met Pete Alderman, a waterski enthusiast from Del Ray Beach, Fla., who summers in Harrison.

Alderman, a retired airline pilot, and the young Baker hit it off immediately. For the next several winters, Baker went to visit him in Florida.

There he practiced both wakeboarding and waterskiing. He also met Dave Reinhart, who this year is rated by Waterski Magazine as the best all-around waterskiier in the world. Reinhart taught Baker how to waterski jump.

"He helped prepare me for Sea World," said Baker.

Baker found out about possible employment at the theme park through friends in Florida. He submitted a resume, and last year went to the Sea World in San Antonio, Texas, to ski professionally.

"I wakeboarded, slalom skied 'around the boat,' barefooted from an eight-foot-high diving board and then slid onto stage on my butt and landed on my feet," he said.

He also did a four-man front flip on two skis over a ramp (at 36 miles an hour), skied as a "base" for a 12-person, three-high pyramid, and drove boats and jet skis.

In addition to working at Sea

World, Baker also took part in some Texas wakeboarding competitions. He won a four-event tournament.

"I had an awesome time in Texas, made a lot of money and friends, and improved my overall waterskiing," Baker said.

But, a fair-skinned redhead, Baker said he "struggled" in the strong sun and 100-degree heat. So he was glad to come north again.

Promoting the sport

This summer he competed in Limerick, in an event sponsored by the International Amateur Waterski Wakeboard & Kneeboard U.S. Tour. He won in the Outlaw (semipro) Division.

Baker said there are usually around 150 people in the competitions, and the numbers are growing.

"When I started, I looked up to the older guys who were better than me, and now they have moved on and I am the older guy," he said. "That puts a lot of pressure on me to do better than the younger kids, and not let myself go past my prime."

"It's all friendly competition, which makes it the best. I love winning, but I can go and be just as happy for the person that beats me."

In August, Bill Green of WCHS TV in Portland interviewed and filmed Baker and three other New England wakeboarding competitors on Long Lake in Naples.

The 10-minute segment is scheduled to air in October.

Baker said wakeboarding and waterskiing competitions are good family activities. New England competition divisions range from beginner to professional, and include age brackets.

"I'd suggest to anyone of any age or ability who is into water sports to check out a competition," he said. "It's very family based, and just makes for a really fun weekend."

by Virginia Keniston
The Bethel Red Hatters enjoyed a round of miniature golf at BIG Adventure in Mayville on Thursday Sept 14 at 10:30. Lunch followed at the Jolly Drayman. Both Big Adventure and Jolly Drayman facilities were closed but opened especially for the group. It was Lucia Swartz' 75th birthday, which was celebrated with song, cards, and cake and ice cream. There were 16 in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Paine and Dick Paine visited Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Collins Shawn and Sophia in Exeter, N.H over the weekend.

Gwenyth Bohr is a surgical patient at Stephen Memorial Hospital this week.

The GA Girls 38, 39 and 40 went out to lunch at Liams on tuesday the 19th.

The Cross Country Quilters quilt donation to the Bethel Library was raffled off this past weekend during Chowder Fest and the winner was Mrs. Todd Davis, Linda.

Mayville News
By Don Bennett

Friday, Sept. 8, hoisting cast concrete bridge sections into place at Mike Pelletier's Twitchell Brook development took up most of day.

Keeley Crane Service of Portland had brought a 210 tons capacity crane to the job site for the day. Superior Concrete from Auburn made the bridge sections at their plant and trucked them to Mayville. Part of this operation encompassed keeping the brook bed pumped dry. Pumping will continue while further work on the bridge is carried out.

This week men were working on the end abutments that face upstream and will eventually support the sides of the road-bed.

Monday night a week ago, Sept. 11, the Bethel selectmen received a quick update on the emergency watershed protection plan's progress for Riverside Cemetery, a plan that could also be called "Saving Gracie Verrill." Two factors seem to have ruled out actually fixing the riverbank damage before winter: (1) late receipt of funding and (2) complexity of the damage to the riverbank. A Bethel visit by a group of soil conservation specialists and engineers based in Maine along with other specialists in watershed protection design and soil mechanics from a government center in Fort Worth is set for Oct. 10. The group from Fort Worth will visit Bethel and Waldoboro on the same day, coming here from Bangor, and then spend the next two days in northern Maine.

As a forerunner to the October visit, on Thursday, Sept. 21, a small contingent of Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) specialists plan to get in an initial survey of riverbank damage at the cemetery. The Natural Resources Conservation Service is the renamed Soil Conservation Service that was first established in 1935. Emergency Watershed Protection which includes the purchase of flood plain easements to prevent such events as soil erosion is part of the NRCS portfolio. The EMP webpage lists 16 success stories, largely in western states; Maine does not have a success story in the current online list. The NRCS Maine state office is located in Bangor. Maine has 16 (county assigned) soil and water conservation districts.

Last Wednesday, Sept. 13, the Bethel Water District was setting up the large water main connection for the Twitchell Brook development.

When I stopped to see what was happening down in the trench, Mike Pelletier, developer, was down there with BWD superintendent, Lucien Roberge. Mike was investing some sweat equity by manning a large pipe wrench with Lucien. When, and if, all planned condos are sold, the BWD will have added 22 new Mayville water customers to the current 35 Mayville income-producing connections already in place. The water team will have scored 57 (or more) to the sewer team's 0.

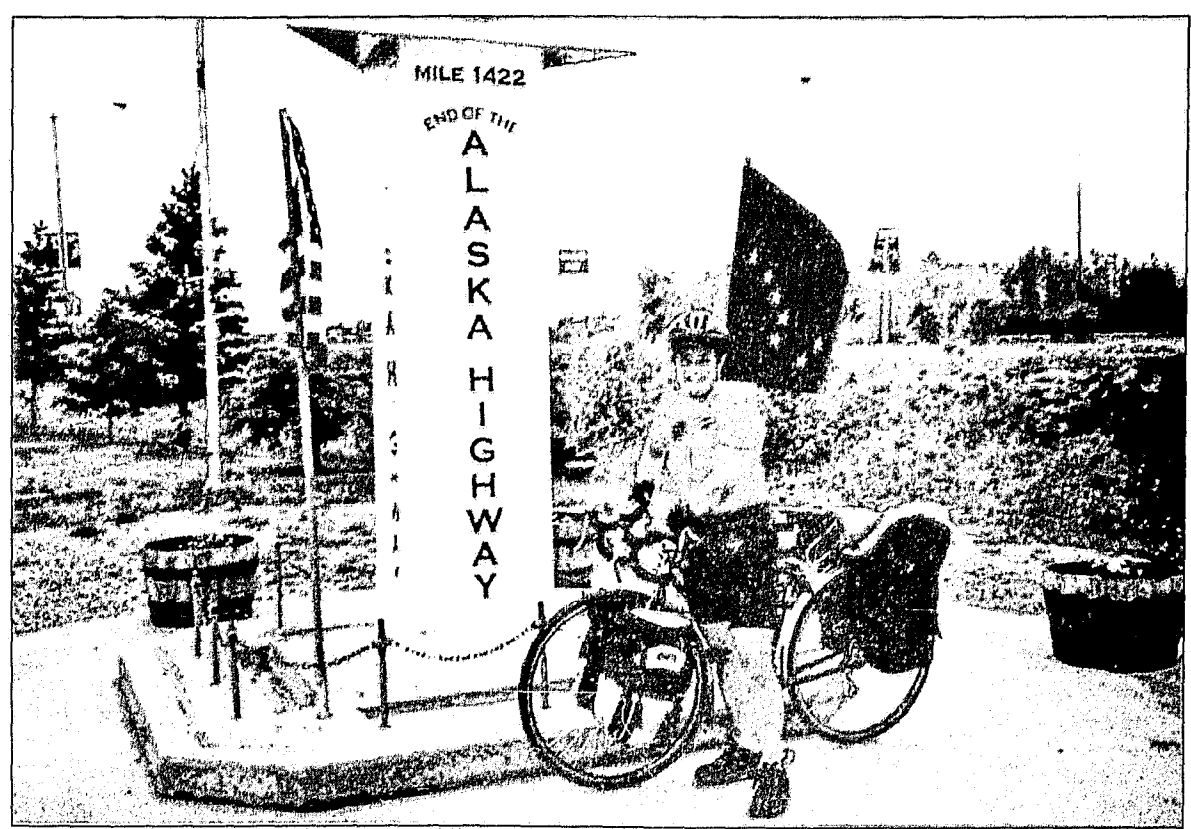

The Lord Mayor of Bethel Outdoor Adventure is away on an adventure for himself. Jeff Parsons is celebrating his fortieth anniversary of induction into Her Majesty's Royal Marines. (God Save the Queen)

A usually reliable source emailed me with news that Sylvia Dyke Clanton had been elected to the Bethel Historical Society's board of trustees.

Discerning observers of upper Mayville's real estate scene will have noticed a new sign this week. Back in August, Mr. Pugliare mentioned to me that he had not decided on what he would do with the section of his property that is not going to be part of Mayville Junction. Friday afternoon a newly installed RE/MAX "For sale or lease or build your own" sign was seen on the lot without a mission.

On Thursday, Sept. 14, Kathy came back from a Red Hats outing in Mayville with her report. Seventeen ladies enjoyed a balmy September day playing mini-golf at BIG Adventure then retreated to the Jolly Drayman for lunch. Both places opened their facilities especially for the Red Hats.

Brad Chafin at BIG Adventure

FROM ALASKA TO MAINE—Kathy Benson of Woodstock recently completed a 4,600-mile bike trip from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Bethel. She left Fairbanks June 10 and reached Bethel on Aug. 29. Benson traveled part of the way with three companions from Pennsylvania. The cyclists camped along the way. They encountered bears, moose, buffalo and wild horses, many of them along the Alaskan Highway. Most notable, said Benson, was a grizzly bear that watched them from beside the road in the Yukon. When they reached Sioux St. Marie, Mich, the Pennsylvanians turned south, and Benson continued east alone through Canada. "I was a little nervous," she said, "but I had no problems." When she reached the U.S. border in upstate New York, the woman checking her at Customs was amazed at her odyssey. "She said, 'Let me be the first to welcome you home,'" said Benson. She had done weeklong bike treks before, but this was the first extended one. She doesn't plan any further long expeditions, she said. A few years ago, Benson completed a major hiking effort. She climbed all the 4,000-foot-high peaks in the White Mountains, during the winter. Why does she do such activities? "I like the adventure," she said.

ture seems to have started the ball rolling for this particular outing. Polly Davis and Sylvia Clanton were the Red Hats who took care of the details. Kathy told me to mention Brad's courteous, helpful attentiveness at BIG and to also thank Jenni and Richard Fredricks for opening their Pub dining room for the ladies as well as amply demonstrating their practiced skill as hosts.

qSaturday, Sept. 16, regular gas at Irving was down to $2.64.9 per gallon and heating oil at Brooks Bros. was down 5 cents a gallon to $2.34.9.

On Sunday, Sept. 17, I saw plenty of trees turning color along the Sunday River Road to the covered bridge. And we have some maples that have started to turn colors as well.

Campaigning Tim Carter knocked on our door last week on his sojourn through what must be the most splintered, cobbled together legislative district imaginable, House District 91. Kathy and

I assured him that we would vote for him as we had in the last election. In our opinion, Tim's background, education and experiences will let him see the unfavorable consequences of any special interest or incomplete plan if someone tries to slip it by in a committee.

Tim and I have much in common; we both had dairy farm and military experiences. He has had a lot more dairy farm time than me but vice versa for the military.

And we both know what Washington, DC, duty is like. I think that by graduating from the University of Maine with an ROTC commission then military service and administrative experience in Washington plus dairy farm management produces a good mix of experiences in a candidate for Maine public office.

Truck loads of freshly dug potatoes from Sunday River Farm have been moving by our house on their way to Rumford Point pretty much all last week. Frank Harrington is cutting second crop hay in his fields. Carter's Middle Interval Farm has been hauling second crop grass by the truckload from their field behind the River View on a daily basis.

Friday afternoon, Sept. 15, Ross and Carol Timberlake hosted an open house and furniture making demonstration at their Mayville showroom and workshop. The open house included a wine and cheese reception across the road at Rooster's Roadhouse. Kathy and I joined a number of others at the open house and discovered that using a showroom for a social gathering gives one a much better chance to "feel" the goods. By using their showroom as the living room for drop-in guests to socialize seemed to be very effective in promoting the sight and feel of what the host/merchandise has to offer. As an epilogue, after wine and cheese time, Ross had to run back to work to finish two pieces that were due to be picked up that weekend.

Although Mayville news is not intended to be a restaurant critic's column, Kathy and I stuffed ourselves with a fabulous dinner at the Rooster's Roadhouse later after visiting the Timberlake's. I had the best appetizer I have tasted in 10 years — a platter of marinated herring and relishes. Not knowing how large the appetizer would be I had already ordered the Roadhouse Prime Rib and bread pudding. The prime rib was delivered quickly and done exactly as I had ordered. Definitely for me it was a five-star meal with speedy, cheerful service. Kathy raved over the flavor and freshness of her seafood entrée. We staggered home with two Styrofoam containers of leftovers. Talking with neighbors next day, we all agreed that Mayville has been clearly blessed this year with two professionally operated eating places in the Rooster's Roadhouse and Jolly Drayman.

Hanover

Jeff and Lynne Watts recently returned home from an 11-day trip to Colorado. They attended the wedding of Jeff's daughter, Kimberly, to Ed Daly at Mt. Pristine Hot Spring Resort in the Ivy League Mountain Chain. Following the wedding, Jeff and Lynne enjoyed fly-fishing in the Frying Pan River.

Gardner Roberts Memorial Library officers attempted to have a meeting last Sunday but a quorum was not achieved. The topics were accepting donations and hiring of a contractor to build the foundation at the new site for the library building.

Tab and Cindy Boyd of Ontario, Canada, were vacationing in the area last August, when Mr. Boyd lost his cell phone while at the Hanover Cemetery. Dave Worcester found the phone while mowing the cemetery and returned it to the Boyds. That was the end of the story as far as Dave knew, until a thank you letter appeared in a local newspaper.

Bill and Gail Worcester traveled to Hooksett, N.H., last weekend to visit with their son, Daren, and his wife, Fran.

Two old coots and one young buck traveled to Columbia, Maine, last week and put a new steel roof on to a very old house whose roof had leaked for years.

With the approaching fall season the Knights of Pythias activities have been increasing. Last Sunday, local members of the fraternity traveled to Farmington Fair to present a horse cooler to the winner of the third race. Others attended from around the state. Cabot Lodge of Andover has restarted their regular Monday night meetings.

Get well wishes to Donna Holder who remains in the Central Maine Medical Center following an early morning car crash on Route 232 in Rumford Corner.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

What happened to those gas prices? They are not low but they are lower. (There must be an election on the way.) It's okay to hit the road for a foliage ride or some other trip which we have denied ourselves.

Fall is upon us but we don't mind. The color, the warm days and cool nights make the Great North Woods an ideal place to live in September.

Saturday was a busy one with several Upton people attending the Great Chowder Fest on the common in Bethel.

Pleasant music, booths laden with wonderful crafts, raffle and cookie walks brought a smile to many faces.

The chowders were delicious. All of them. They were all winners.

The saddest part of fall is the waning of those great tomatoes and cucumbers at Ellie and Norm Davis's stand. We also have enjoyed too much of the Swain Farm corn. The scale is tipping in the opposite direction.

Although there are fewer boats on the lake the kayakers are filling in the void. There was a steady line of canoes crossing at Tidswell Point on Sunday. It was a splendid weekend enjoyed by all.

The level of the water in the lake has dropped. The boats will have to be removed soon or spend the winters in the ice

Best wishes to Lionel Roy, who will undergo a medical procedure in Manchester this week.

The face of Upton is slowly changing with construction of new homes. All of them are very desirable.

The Ladies Aid did not meet last week but will resume Christmas projects this week.

An Antique Auto Show was held on Saturday in the large parking lot of the Bull Moose Campground and Restaurant.

Although the frost has not hit Upton hard as yet, Evelyn Kenney reports that it froze everything in Haynesville ruining all the flowers. While enjoying a boat ride on Sunday, two Green Wing Teals followed the boat for about a half a mile.

They were immature and did not know how good they will taste to a hunter later in the season.

There are turkeys everywhere. No longer is it a surprise to see them. The Strattons in New Jersey and Pat Nolan in Westwood Massachusetts are seeing them daily.

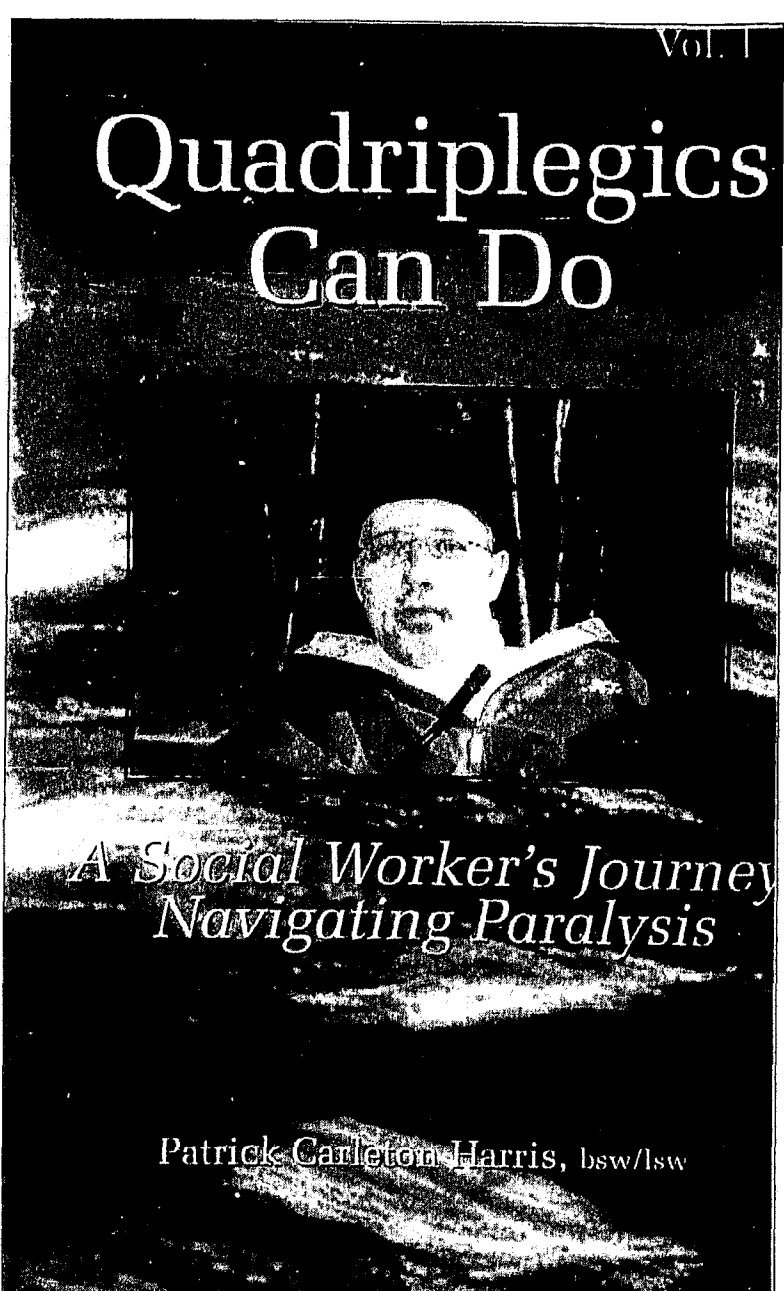

Best wishes to the Geiling family in their new home in Elizabethtown, N. Y.

Sue and Larry Nelson have a pair of kingfishers that are battling it out over their deck. At times they fly into the windows but get right back up after recovering and start right back up again.

The Green Wing Teal is the "Bird of the Week." It is a small dark duck.

The male has a chestnut colored head and a green ear patch, pale gray sides and a pinkish breast with a vertical white stripe down the side. The lady is dark brown and has no marks to draw attention to her.

They are quite hardy and among the last ducks to head south.

BOOK PUBLISHED, TREK PLANNED—Patrick Harris of Bryant Pond, a quadriplegic, has just published a book entitled "Quadriplegics Can Do, Vol. 1: A Social Worker's Journey Navigating Paralysis." The book begins with an account of the car accident that left him paralyzed, and proceeds to topics that include the grieving process, his efforts to continue with normal and challenging activities of life, medical issues, the impact on the family, resources available, and stem cell research. Harris will shortly undertake his second trek by wheelchair across Maine from Fort Kent to Kittery, taking with him 1,500 copies of the book to sell and sign along the way. Significant proceeds from the sale will go toward stem cell research. In November, he plans another wheelchair trek, to Washington, D.C., where he will deliver a copy of his book to Dr./Sen. Bill Frist, to thank him for defending stem cell research, Harris said. He also plans to establish a non-profit agency to assist new spinal cord injury victims in Maine to accclimate to their new lives. Since becoming paralyzed, Harris has participated in sports including skydiving, scuba diving and skiing, and plans more. He will do them, he said, to demonstrate what quadriplegics can do, and to provide inspiration to others. He also plans two more volumes of his book: "The Quest for Adventure" and "Expeditions Completed."

The red maples have started out the leaf-peeping season with a bang this past week. The wet places are ablaze with crimson, reminding us that summer is really ending. When this appears in print, it will be the autumnal equinox, first day of fall. We've been noticing the flickers doing their fall thing, pecking at the roadsides, then taking off in their characteristic undulating flight, white rumps flashing. A few hummingbird stragglers are still here, prompting Mike to keep their feeders full of sugar syrup.

The Harvest Fest took place last Saturday on the Common. I sat with my spinning wheel in the Sunday River Alpaca booth and saw a steady stream of folks both there and at all the other stalls. Many came to try out all the chowders; others, for the crafts; still others, to see the "Ways of the Woods" trailer parked next to the Fire Station. It was a beautiful day, and it was a pleasure to see so many people enjoying the beautiful town on the hill.

Some of you may have noticed some changes in the forest road. The Forest Service crews have done a super job of grading and removing pesky rocks. That's the good news. The downside is that now the yahoos think they have a private speedway. What's the hurry? My friends at the Forest Service tell me that the authorities will be on the lookout for those who endanger the wildlife and other drivers with their speed, while scarpering the new road surface.

Last Thursday the local Red Hat ladies had a day out, starting with a couple of rousing rounds of miniature golf at BIG Adventure. This was followed by lunch at the Jolly Drayman, where we enjoyed a lovely meal and toasted the birthday of Lucia Schwarz with cards and cake. Lucia is my "cousin-in-law," and her birthday comes about two months after mine, when she finally catches up to me in age. Neither of us lets the other forget! The Red Hatters convey their special thanks to both BIG Adventure and the Jolly Drayman, who opened especially for us!

Saturday was a big day for Linda Westleigh and her family. It was the occasion of a big Curtis family reunion—Linda's father's side. Linda told me there were 51 people in attendance, coming from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Alabama, and Spokane, Washington. The youngest attendee was just one year old, and the oldest, Great Aunt Crystal, 94. Aunt Crystal is Linda's grandfather's sister and the oldest living relative of that generation. You go, girl!

Linda hadn't seen her Uncle Keith from Spokane for several years, and he brought her a portfolio of family photos to keep, some of which she had never seen. In addition, she had spent a lot of time beforehand, collecting and arranging photos to display at the party. Others brought genealogies and family trees. Many family memories were exchanged and enjoyed on the day.

The Curtis descendants partook of a potluck meal served from a gazebo in the back yard. Dessert was a cake that Kathy Burke brought in honor of her parents' 60th wedding anniversary celebration. There was a special play area for the little ones, so a good time was had by every generation.

The pool is all wrapped up for winter, and Mike is rototilling part of the garden. We're clinging to the pepper plants for another day or two, but a cold snap is coming this week, and the peppers will have to go. What do you think chances are for a good, snowy winter? Let me know what you think, and what you've been doing. 836-3011; dhoeh@megalink.net

It seems nice to have summer weather back, at least during the daylight hours.

Last week was the first full week of school. My grandson, William Chapman, seems to be enjoying his first year at Crescent Park School. He likes his teacher, Mrs. Merrill. It is quite an adjustment for the kindergarten children to go from being home all day to spending the whole day in a classroom.

Hugh has been busy getting the firewood split and piled up. Zach Meisner came last Sunday to help out. Sometimes it is easier to have two people running the wood splitter. By the way, thanks Fred.

My brother, Steve McLain, had early visitors last Saturday. His son, Brad McLain, and his friend, Ed, arrived to finish cutting up and splitting the woodpile.

On my way to work one day last week, I noticed that the Maine State Police were at the SAD44 Maintenance Garage. They were there to do one of their routine inspections. The buses and garage passed with a very good report and excellent comments from the inspectors.

It was nice to see Howard and Stevie Reiche this past weekend. They were in town with other members of their family. Stevie is recovering quite well from her broken hip.

The supper is at 5 p.m. and is open to the public, so gather your friends, bring a hot dish, salad or dessert to share and come and have a good time. The Bear River Trading Post has tagged a few bear lately. The largest one was 375 pounds, brought in by a man from out of state. Dogs and bait are now being used in the bear hunt.

For several nights recently, the pleasant sound of an owl hooting around 8 p.m. is music in the silence of the evening.

It is yard and flower pot cleaning time, and wood stacking too, for those who use wood burning stoves as many do in this area.

News from the Town Office: The Board of Selectmen meet on the 1st and 3rd Monday of each month. The Planning Board members meet on the 1st and 3rd Wednesday of each month. Their agendas are posted at the Town Office. If you need more information about these meetings you may call the office at 824-3123. All meetings at the Town Office are open to the public.

The weather was perfect for Oxford County Fair last week.

The head of the information booth, Virginia Herrick, had a heart attack on Tuesday and is at Maine Medical Center in Portland, so an urgent call was out for someone to fill her place. I went down Wednesday and worked all day each day for the four days of the fair. I finally learned where each event was held and hope I told each one to go to the right place. Sister, Cynthia Lamb, helped also. We sold the racing programs, which kept us very busy. It was a pleasant job for we saw many old friends and many pleasant people.

Sayward Lamb was there for two evenings with his wood carvings and demonstrated his art of carving.

Owen and Donna Melville, Dorene Merrill and Beryl Bonney invited me to go with them to the American Legion Supper-Dance at Locke Mills. The supper was good and the Parisians played for the dance. They always draw a big crowd for they play the oldies music. It is mostly the older folks that dance every dance.

Sunday, Sept. 24, Minister Emeritus, the Rev. Herbert Adams, will conduct the service at the West Paris Universalist Church at 9 a.m.

On Monday, Sept. 25, the Goodwill Fellowship of the U.U. Church will meet at the home of Cynthia Lamb on North Pond for a potluck supper at 6 p.m. Pokino will be played.

The craft group meets Thursdays at 1 p.m. at the church.

On Tuesday I entertained at a family gathering. Those present were brother Glen and Lucille Allen of Buckfield, Sister Ethelyn Turner of South Paris, Sister Cynthia and Sayward Lamb, and Cousin Marilyn and Jim Greenacre of West Buxton. We get together each fall before some go to Florida.

On Sunday, I visited my brother in Buckfield for he is not well. With the new road over Streaked Mountain it does not take long to go up and over and down the other side.

I am wondering if Buffy will know that we lose an hour next weekend and will wake me up on time to go walking. He is my alarm clock.

Millie Jackson, Louis and Roger Twitchell, Shirley Lowell, Dot Bartlett, and Nancy Mercer attended Senior Citizens at the Rooster's Road House on 13 Sept.

My brother, John, is now at CMMC in Lewiston.

Alder River Grange will have a beef stew supper on 23

Sept. at 5 p.m.. Adult tickets will be $6.00 and under 13 will be $3.00.

The supper schedule for Alder River Grange is Harvest Supper on 21 Oct. and the Turkey Supper on 11 Nov. This turkey supper is free to any veteran.

The rock maples are changing leaf color already. Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

Last weekend we had great-grandson Boston while his parents went to a funeral.

Saturday morning, Boston and I got the tractor and dump trailer out to haul firewood to brother Rupert's house and another load to my own. Boston and Snuffy rode in the trailer through the woods to the woodpile, both enjoying the bumpy road while Boston rode "shotgun" with his wooden rifle.

While loading wood for my own furnace, I uncovered a tiny orange and black salamander, which I gave to Boston. He was immediately attracted to it and named it "Sally Mander," or Sally for short. He took it to the house to show Nana (Mona). She gave him a salad dressing jar with air holes to keep Sally in. While I was unloading wood into the basement, Boston began catching frogs in our little garden pool. Excited with his first "catch," he brought it to show me. I recommended he put the frog into the "big pond" across the road in the pasture, where they stand a chance of surviving the winter, because our garden pond liner prevents the frogs from getting into any mud to hibernate.

Then, when I was getting ready to take the garden tractor and wagon to the garden to pick squash, Boston found a small "garter snake" about a foot long behind the tractor. This was delightful, and he held the snake, while riding in the wagon the whole time I was picking squash (44 of them!); he delighted in watching the snake curl itself into a figure eight around his fingers whenever he touched a finger to the snake's belly. Later, Boston was returning to the yard after depositing another frog in the "big pond," when he found two baby snakes, both about 4 inches long, by my garden fence. These he put into a plastic pail I got for him along with the bigger snake and some grass and dirt for cover.

After "Mom" came up to get Boston, he showed her his treasures, Sally and the snakes. Monica was not enthused about Boston's plan to take the snakes home, although she agreed to accept "Sally." She made Boston take the snakes across the driveway and release them into the woods. After completing that job, Boston asked, "Mom. Did you always hate snakes when you were growing up?"

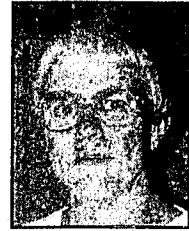

I forgot to mention that on Labor Day weekend, my niece, Elsie was talking to her daughter, Eileen Flynn, who lives in Myrtle Beach, S.C. During the conversation, Elsie asked if Lucy (her granddaughter) wanted to talk to her on the phone. When Eileen asked Lucy (6 years old) if she wanted to talk to Grammy, Lucy replied, "Not if she is going to ask me about school!"

In talking to my daughter, Cheryl, who lives in Mahomet, Ill., I asked how the kids were doing in school. She said one of my granddaughters is grounded until she starts getting all her homework done on time. She also said that some of their local elementary school teachers are putting kids' homework assignments on-line, so they are accessible via computer from home. The kids are given a password, so they (and parents) can find out about assignments and how they are doing. Sounds like a good system to me. Does anyone know if any teachers in our area are doing something similar?

I also forgot to mention that the drawing for the Harley Davidson motorcycle with the Air Force paint job was held on Sept 9, and you and I didn't win. The winner was the Brewer, Maine, Marden's store manager, who purchased two tickets. This nice person also allowed cadets from the Bangor CAP squadron to sell tickets in that store. That squadron sold more tickets than any other.

"A golden 50th wedding anniversary party was given to Stanley and Irene Mills by their family. It was an outdoor party given at the Mills' home with about 60 guests. It was a special day for all. A 5 pound, 7 ounce baby boy named Cody Daniel Parnell was born to Kelly Moore and Daniel Grover at Stephens Memorial Hospital on Sept. 3, 2006.

The beginning of Cushman Road has been redone. The road was closed last Thursday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. so the entrance could be upgraded.

HEADQUARTERS OPENED—The Oxford County Republican Committee held its grand opening for headquarters Sept. 6. The headquarters are located at 150 Main St. in South Paris. Letters were read from Sen. South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing

Frank and Gloria Frazier celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary by enjoying a Royal Caribbean Cruise to the Florida Keys, Mexico and other places along the route. There were 14 family and friends who joined them on the trip.

They left from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The trip was a six-day voyage. Frank said they had a wonderful time and was very impressed by the size of the liner that was over 900 feet long. The food was wonderful. They all had a very enjoyable trip. I wish them many more years of happiness.

Frank and Gloria and daughter, Diane, are our good neighbors here in South Woodstock.

Many are attending the Oxford County Fair this week. Kellie is planning to take her grandson, Zack, this weekend. The trees are turning really fast. I hate to see the cold weather come, but the leaves sure are beautiful.

Quote of the Week: "I have learned that you should not let yesterday take up too much of today."

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings & Hello from Albany Town ship. Some days, the weather still hangs onto summer with warm mornings and evenings; other days, there is a definite need for the wood stove to be heating. Still, been managing to ride my motorcycle to work in the mornings (well, most mornings), so that's nice. With the price of gas the way it is (although it has dropped a little), it's the way to go.

The autumn crops will be coming in, and we've noticed that the Barton's farm stand on Hunt's Corner Road is always full with some of their great produce! Pumpkins will be orange soon.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

From Western Mountains Senior College

Intrepid Trekkers Series
WMSC will again offer these popular and free travel presentations that take one around the world to explore different ways of travel and experience different cultures. They promise to be enjoyable for "armchair travelers" as well as those who want tips on how and where to travel.

"Seeing New Zealand on a home exchange" will be presented by Pat and Henry Stewart on Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 3 p.m. in the dining room of the West Parish Congregational Church. For over 25 years, the Stewarts have been enjoying home exchanges as a special and economical way to see the world. They have enjoyed homes in California, South Carolina, England, France, Canada, Puerto Rico and Italy. Besides describing the home exchange process, they will focus their talk on a recent three-week home exchange in New Zealand.

"Traveling with Elderhostel" will be presented by Lorrie Hoeh on Sunday, Nov. 19 at 3 p.m. in a location to be announced later. Elderhostel is a not-for-profit organization that provides extraordinary learning adventures for people 55 and over. Lorrie Hoeh and her husband have traveled with Elderhostel many times and Lorrie will share highlights of their many adventures.

New Bridge Class Forming
Leigh Dickinson, an enthusiastic new member of Senior College and an avid bridge player for some 30 years, says that bridge helps to keep one's mind sharp. She has volunteered to teach a class to members interested in learning how to play bridge. The six-week class will be scheduled on a Tuesday or Wednesday and at times selected by the majority of those interested. For more information, contact Jackie Cressy at 824-0508.

From Oxford County Republicans

A busy week for Republican candidates and their supporters began in Buckfield at the Labor Day celebration on Monday, Sept. 4. Crowds gathered along the parade route and at the local football field to enjoy this annual event. Norm Ferguson, candidate for county treasurer and Len Greaney, candidate for Senate District 14, led the Republican contingent in their "twin" trucks dressed in quite visible signs decked out in red, white and blue.

The weather cooperated, the crowd was festive and the GOP booth, making its presence known, enjoyed a great many interested visitors.

On Wednesday, Sept. 6, a group of Oxford County Republicans were in Portland at Sable Oaks for a reception and luncheon put on by Maine Heritage Policy Center. The featured speaker was the lively former Speaker of the House, Newt Gingrich. Those attending from Oxford County were the former President of the Senate and Mrs. Rick Bennett, former state Sen. and Mrs. Norm Ferguson, former state Rep. and Mrs. Ted Heidrich, Mrs. Myung (Jacquie) Kim, former state Sen. and Mrs. Roland Sutton, Harry Faulkner and Richard Begin, all from the Oxford County GOP.

On Wednesday afternoon, many of those folks returned to South Paris to help launch the opening of the Republican Campaign Headquarters for the coming election. Refreshments were served to the many folks who stopped by the Main Street headquarters to meet and chat with candidates.

Following the grand opening, a late afternoon reception was held at the home of Dan and Victoria Peistrup honoring all the local candidates. Victoria, Dan and their two young sons greeted over one hundred guests in their beautiful Victorian home in Norway. The crowd spilled over onto an ample deck and lovely back yard. A fleeting minishower did nothing to dampen the spirit of the enthusiastic crowd.

The hospitality of the Peistrup family was greatly appreciated. It was a perfect finale to a busy day for Oxford County Republicans and only served to rev up GOP momentum.

On Saturday, Sept. 9, Rob and Louanne Cameron and family hosted a pig roast for Christopher Wainwright, candidate for Oxford County Sheriff. Delectable smells of roasting pig, turkey and corn enticed the huge crowd that gathered for the occasion. The Republicans were out in full force to support Chris and to round out a week of vigorous GOP activity.

From Oxford County Democrats

The River Valley Democrats entertained the Oxford County Democrats in Rumford at the annual BBQ at the Franklin Street home of Maurice and Theresa Fraser, co-hosted by Rep. John Patrick and his wife, Claire, in Rumford on Sept. 17. More than 150 people turned out to welcome Governor John E. Baldacci and Congressman Mike Michaud, as well as Secretary of State Matt Dunlap, and to enjoy fine weather and an excellent meal.

Rep. Patrick served as Master of Ceremonies and introduced the Governor with praise for the leadership he has provided in tackling the fiscal situation he inherited and key issues of economic development and healthcare. The Governor spoke about the accomplishments of his first term and the steps he plans in his second term in continuing to move Maine forward. Congressman Michaud spoke about the hopes he has for gaining a Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, and the importance of supporting Democratic candidates for the Maine House and Senate and in re-electing Governor Baldacci.

Remarks were given by Senator Bruce Bryant of Dixfield; County Treasurer Mary Ann Prue of Rumford; Mexico Selectman Reggie Arsenault, candidate for House in District 93; Tim Carter of Bethel, candidate for House in District 91; and Wilton Police Chief Wayne Gallant of Rumford, candidate for Oxford County Sheriff. County Chair Cathy Newell thanked those attending for their generosity in supporting the County Democrats, and asked that they contribute to the campaigns of Gallant and Prue who, as county candidates, are not eligible for Maine Clean Elections Funding.

From Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met Sept 13 at the Rooster's Roadhouse for their meeting and dinner with 38 members and guests present. President Nancy Mercer conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag.

Reports were given by Jane Hosterman and Arlene Lowell.

The next meeting will be Oct. 11 at Pleasant Valley Grange Hall in West Bethel. Meeting will start at 11 a.m. Entertainment will be Del Parker.

The door prize was won by Verna Thayer. The auction was a great success; approximately $90 was raised for the club. Auctioneer was Nancy Mercer assisted by Caroline Gould.

A representative from Senior Plus will be at the Alder River Grange on Oct 13 to discuss changes in Plan D of the Medicare Program.

From Bethel Boy Scout Troop 565

Boy Scout Troop 565 will be holding an Open House Sept. 24 at 6 p.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel. All boys and their parents are invited. To join Boy Scouts a youth must be between the ages of 11 and 18. Boys who have earned the Arrow of Light in Cub Scouts are encouraged to join but this is not a requirement. Scouting provides a place for boys to learn leadership, team work and outdoor skills. For the parents of boys with college or other venues requiring resumes, the membership in an organization like scouting is important. The evening will also be a good time to introduce the new Scout Master. We look forward to seeing you there to answer all your questions. Thank you. —Eugene Tanguay

From Western Maine Girls' Association

Thanks to all of our wonderful supporters. After much consideration it was decided to postpone our Fall 5K until the spring. Part of the decision is that SAD#17, who joined us last spring will run a spring Girls on the Run session. They had over 100 girls last spring, so it seems to make sense to move the Family 5K run/walk so all our girls and their families can run together. To all of our faithful participants, we look forward to seeing you in the spring for our largest 5K yet!

The decision to postpone the 5K in turn has given me permission as the local Girls on the Run coach take a break from coaching this fall. I love the program but really need time in the office to get caught up, get the web site up and running and focus on our other programs. The second session of the Tapestry Project will be starting in October. This program for middle school girls combines physical adventure with art and discussion. The program meets one Sat. a month for 9 months. There are still openings for this years program. Another idea that is developing is a "Little

From the Lewin Center

The newly formed Lewin Center in Bethel has embarked on its mission as a Center for Social Change, Action and Research. The center will occupy the Gehring House on Broad Street in Bethel, in a lease arrangement with NTL.

Charles Seashore, president of the Lewin Center's Board, has announced the appointment of Nancy Davis as program director of the new organization, which has applied for nonprofit status. "Ms. Davis brings an excellent background in education," says Seashore, "including 15 years as teacher and principal in SAD44, and most recently as program coordinator for Granite State College (formerly College for Lifelong Learning) in Berlin/Gorham, N.H. She has a long history with NTL, beginning with her participation in a college lab in the '80's and continuing through her involvement in the Bethel Area Task Force."

The board of the Lewin Center values Bethel as a core for exploring the developmental potential in individuals, groups, communities, organizations and larger social systems. "I welcome the intriguing opportunities this presents," says Davis. "I look forward to working with others who share a deep regard for the valuable part played by NTL and the Gehring House in Bethel's history." Davis will work with Cathy Newell, Bethel board member of the Lewin Center, to forge partnerships with many organizations and individuals in the Bethel community. They welcome questions or expressions of support and interest. The Lewin Center's address is

From Maine Veterans' Home

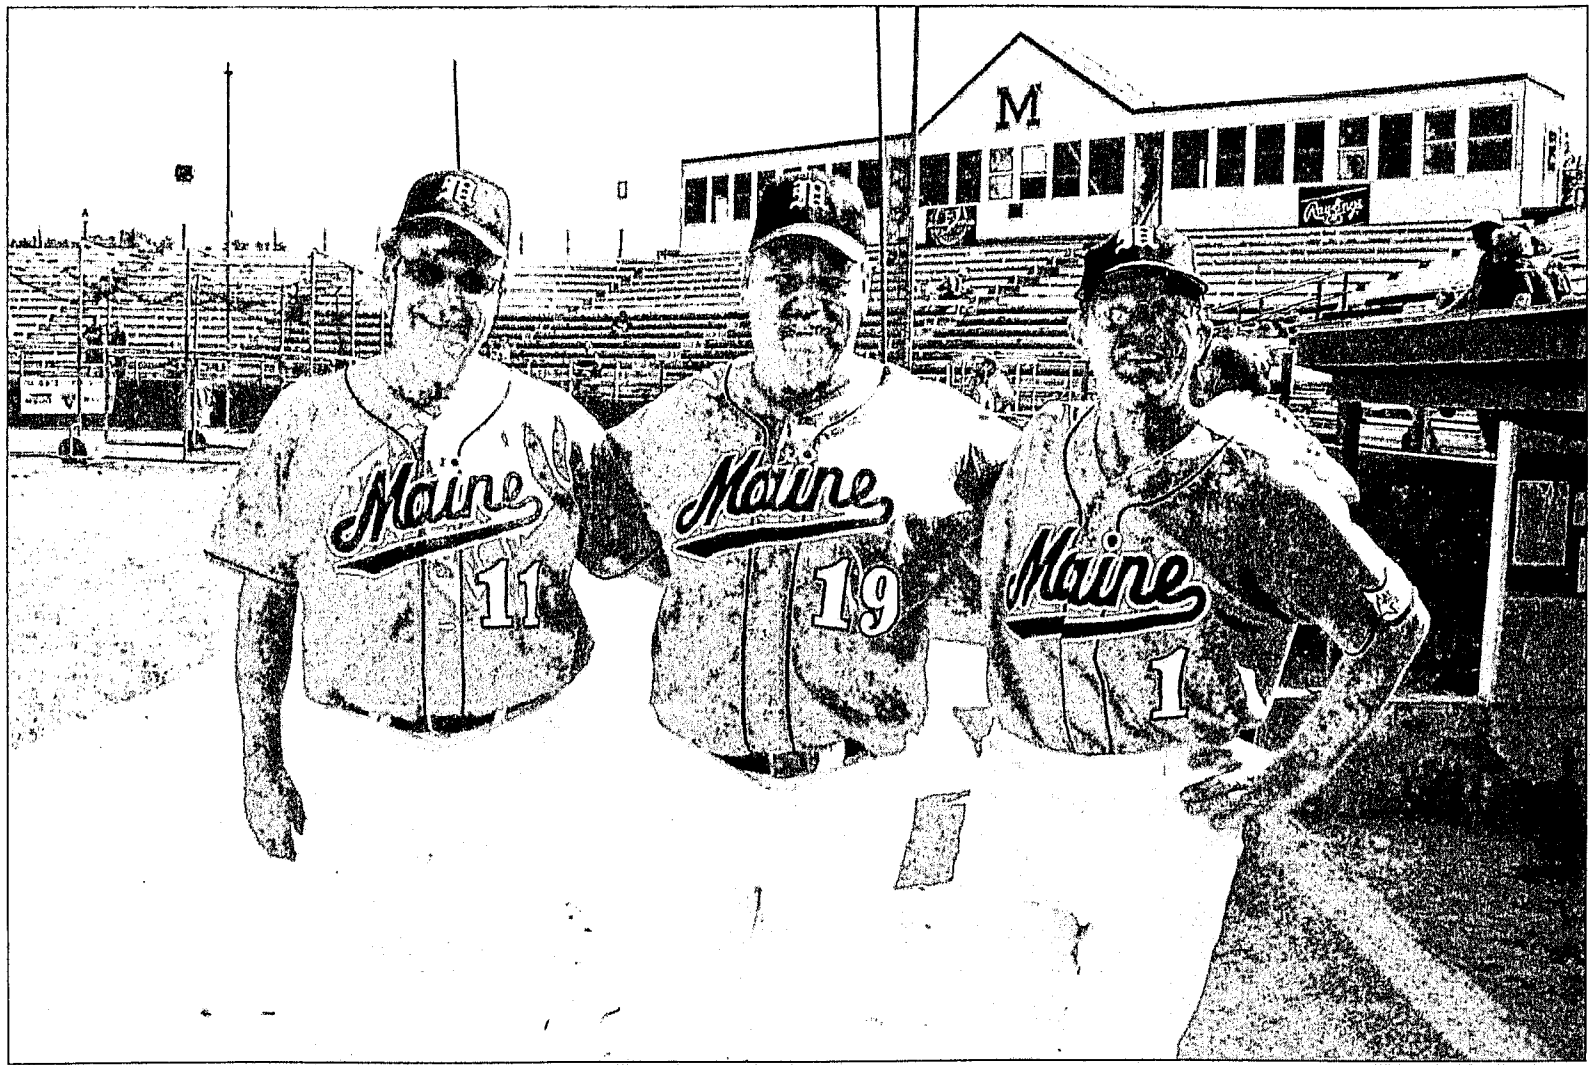

The employee association of the Maine Veterans' Home in South Paris, recently raised over $400 from a raffle which will go toward the team effort to raise money for the annual Alzheimer's Association Memory Walk. Tickets were sold for $1 each and the prize was a certificate for $100 worth of fresh Maine lobster. The lucky winner of the raffle was Diane Jones, from the Augusta area.

The employees association is sponsoring a team from the facility to walk in the Maine Alzheimer's Association Memory Walk on Saturday, Oct. 7. The team will consist of employees, family members, friends, and anyone else interested in helping out this important fundraiser.

The public is welcome to participate by making donations or walking. Participants seek sponsors to donate funds for the walk and the money raised from this walk goes to the Maine Alzheimer's Association. All funds raised stay in the state of Maine and assist caregivers with services such as respite, education, safe return programs and coping mechanisms.

The Oxford Hills area Memory Walk will be hosted at the Maine Veterans' Home on Saturday, Oct. 7, 2006. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and the four-mile walk begins at 9. There are door prizes and refreshments for all who participate. Employee Association member Ellie Newell states, "We have been very successful over the last several years in participating in the Oxford Hills area walk. Oxford Hills has contributed as much as $10,000 to the Maine Alzheimer's Association. We welcome area businesses and individuals in the community to join us for this worthwhile cause."

For more information about the walk, the Maine Alzheimer's Association has a website at alz.org, or call Maine Veterans' Home located at 477 High Street in South Paris at 743-6300.

Reunions

MERRILL/BROWN

Rod Harrington and Alberta Merrill hosted the Merrill/Brown family reunion at their home on the Irish Neighborhood Road on Saturday, Aug. 26.

Baked beans, salads, burgers, hot dogs, and lots of desserts were enjoyed by all attending.

Erica Brown and members of her band played many French Canadian jigs, reels, polkas, and waltzes for the enjoyment of everyone.

Those attending were Charlie and Caroline Merrill, Darlene Merrill and Judy McCaslin; Ralph (Jug) and Nicole Merrill, Chris and Teague Merrill; Alan, Kelly and Britney Merrill; Melinda Chase and Dante; Mike, Ruth and Kayla Brown; David and Chance Brown; Dean, Tricia, Chris, Keith, Daniel and Erica Brown.

INMAN FAMILY

An Inman Family Reunion was held Saturday, Sept. 2, at the camp of Howard and Barbara Inman on Songo Pond in Bethel.

Those attending were descendants of Marshall and Nellie Baker Inman. Three of Marshall and Nellie's six children, Harry, Mabel and Benjamin's lines were represented at the reunion.

Marshall was a Civil War veteran who was wounded in action. His grandson, Howard Inman received the Purple Heart in WWII and his great-grandsons, Vernon W. Inman (now deceased) and Charles Runnels, received Purple Hearts in WWII and Vietnam respectively. Two other great-grandsons, Byron Inman and Dale Robinson, served in the Navy. Byron served during both the Korean and Vietnam conflicts and Dale served in Vietnam. Marshall's great-great-grandsons, Vernon G. Inman and Walter Inman, Jr., have recently returned from separate tours of duty in Bosnia and Iraq.

The youngest Inman present at the reunion was Ani Inman, age 8, daughter of Gary and Leslie Inman and the oldest was Howard Inman, age 81. We all were pleased that so many of our younger generations were able to attend. Thanks Charlie and Donna for "jingling" our chains to do this.

High School Golf

Wiscasset 5, Telstar 0; Sept. 19—Kyle Maines shot a 37 but lost to a fine even par round of 36. The team is showing improvement and is aiming at the MVC's at Natanis in October.

Mt. Valley 3, Telstar 2; Sept. 13—Telstar's Kyle Maines, and Dane Wilson won their matches in a loss to Mt. Valley.

Youth Football

Third and Fourth Grades

Jay/Livermore 39, Greenwood 0; Sept. 17—Turnovers and very strong Jay/Livermore special teams were the difference in the game. The defense played solid with fine efforts by Kevin Goodrich, Dave Pilgrim, Nick Johnson and Rebecca Tuttle.

Turner 19, Greenwood 0; Sept. 10—Fine defensive efforts were turned in by Kevin Goodrich, Dave Pilgrim, Zack Wheeler, and Noah Rose but a lack of offense kept the team from winning their home opener. Rookie Ryan Bennet did give the home crowd a chance to cheer with a nice touchdown saving tackle. Rookie Caleb Currier also managed a few nice runs. — Andy Wheeler

Fifth and Sixth Grades

Jay/Livermore 12, Greenwood 8; Sept. 17—The team lost a heartbreaker with no time left on the clock on what can only be described as a great play by the Jay/Livermore quarterback. The Spartans outmuscled the much bigger and more experienced Raiders for the entire game with Nick Mills, Josef Holt, Hunter Chase and rookie QB Dominic Haines pounding the ball at the Raiders defense. The Raiders scored first on an interception in the third quarter but the Spartans marched right down the field and scored on a short run by Haines to tie the game at 6 and Mike Delduca kicked the extra point (worth two at this level) for the lead. The team played incredible defense giving up only the final TD with Tyler Cherkis, Bronson Dean, Mills and Chase leading the way. Rookie Luke Bellanceau had a breakout game on both sides of the ball with some great blocking and tackling. Delduca also kicked a jaw dropping punt which sailed over everybody and resulted in the Spartans getting the ball back on a turnover. About 100 emotionally exhausted fans traveled to watch the game.

Greenwood 25, Turner 19; Sept. 10—Greenwood's Nick Mills scored two touchdowns, made several tackles, and forced a fumble. Rookie quarterback Dominic Haines also scored twice and Bronson Dean made some nice runs. Defensively, the whole team played brilliantly, never yielding any large gains. Mills, Josef Holt, and Morgan led the way in tackles and Sam Wheeler had a key fumble recovery. The hometown crowd of about 175 went wild when the game ended, with this being the first victory ever at this level. — Andy Wheeler

From Gould Academy

Gould begins 171st year
Last Monday marked the start of the 2006-2007 school year at Gould. The Academy began its 171st year fully enrolled with a student body of 245, representing 12 countries and 20 states. Prior to the arrival of students, Head of School Dan Kunkle welcomed the assembled faculty and staff and shared a few reflections about the coming school year:

"I am really excited to be a part of Gould Academy right now for a number of reasons. I'm always excited because of what we do here, which hasn't changed much over the years. Our purpose here is to touch young lives, and to send them out into the world prepared to succeed in college and to enter into their adulthood as strong individuals. I'm also excited to be here because of who we are as a community: a diverse group of old and new faculty, students from across the country and around the world, and a wonderful collection of talents, interests, and experience that we can each share with one another."

At the Opening of School Assembly on Sunday, Sept. 10, this year's head student proctors addressed the student body to bestow some words of advice.

Hannah Gilman '07, of Kingston, N.H. suggested that "It is so important for the extroverts of our community to take a step and initiate friendships with the people they see are quiet and shy. And, it is just as important for those shier people to take a step and become involved in a game of Frisbee, or start a conversation...So, take whatever step it takes to create those friendships, treat everyone with respect, and 20 years from now we can still count on each other for some advice, and always for some fun."

Rebecca Rowe '07, of Tampa,

Fla., discussed the importance of building relationships with the faculty and staff: "Here at Gould the teachers are so much more than just teachers. If you let them, they will also be your friends, mentors, confidants, and substitute parents. My advice to you is to try and extract meaning and substance from your daily encounters with faculty and staff. You will be a better person for it."

Willie Courtney '07, of Hartland, Vt., spoke about setting a positive tone for the year: "Gould is very similar to a team full of players who assume different roles both on the field, in the classroom, and with peers. As you all know, playing on a successful team requires talented players. But the most successful teams have talented players with winning attitudes. I am confident that all of us here at Gould can create a great atmosphere and work together to lead a successful year."

Administrative changes

The 2006-2007 academic year also began with several shifts in the Gould administration. Working directly with Head of School Dan Kunkle is Gould's senior administrative team, comprised of Pat Donovan, assistant head and director of health services; John Kerney, associate head and chief operating officer; Pete Rackliffe, assistant head and chief financial officer; and Zack Lehman, director of institutional advancement.

Pat Donovan, who has been the director of health services at Gould for 25 years, is a well-known figure at the academy. Having raised four boys on campus (three of whom have already graduated) and participated in daily life as a parent, trusted mentor, and nurse, Pat understands the many facets of adolescent development, and she embodies the school's mission of ensuring the emotional and physical well being of Gould's students.

John Kerney continues to use his experience in finance, marketing, and operations to help oversee the vision and direction of the academy. In his new role, John also teaches a geography class centered upon global dynamics.

Pete Rackliffe begins his 28th year at Gould and continues to support the school by heading the Business Office and maintaining direct involvement in the ebb and flow of Gould's daily life.

Having graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy, Zack Lehman brings to Gould a first-hand understanding of the value of a boarding school education. As the founder and former executive director of the Massachusetts Metropolitan Lacrosse and Education Initiative, Zack is also well qualified for his current mission of involving those individuals and organizations that can financially support Gould's programs and strategic priorities.

The senior team is responsible for the overall direction of the Academy's operations and programs, and for making policy and planning recommendations to the school's board of trustees.

The school's newly formed Deans' Council provides direct support and day-to-day guidance for all student programs. The council is chaired by Kerney and Donovan, who are joined by the school's four deans: Thomas Whittington, dean of academics; Lorenzo Baker, dean of community life; Martha Whittington, dean of students; and Adrienne Shibbes, dean of athletics & co-curricular programs.

Reconnecting Our Farms With Our Schools Fall Conference at University of

Maine's beautiful Fall Foliage beginning to change color, looking healthy

Above average rainfall during the spring and early summer has resulted in a healthy tree canopy in each of the state's seven foliage tracking zones. Cooler than normal temperatures during August, and the natural decrease in daylight are contributing to the early transformation of color in the state's 52 native species of leaf-producing trees.

"Maine's foliage is one of our major tourist attractions," said Governor John Baldacci. "Our natural resources are second-to-none. I encourage everyone to get outdoors and enjoy the beautiful pictures painted on nature's palette during the fall."

Currently, state forest and park rangers are reporting low leaf color, or less than 30 percent toward peak, in the tracking zones covering all of extreme northern Maine and the western mountain zone including Jackman, Greenville and points southwest to Bethel. Foliage color in all other parts of the state is very low, or less than 10 percent toward peak.

In addition to providing up-to-date foliage information, www.maine-foliage.com is also a great place to start planning a fall foliage trip, learn more about Maine's trees, or interact with other foliage fans.

"Last year, our foliage Web site had more than 3 million hits in a seven-week period," said Department of Conservation Commissioner Patrick K. McGowan. "MaineFoliage.com is the best resource for those seeking the top foliage viewing spots in Maine, many of which are in our 47 state parks and historic sites."

Visitors to the site can sign up to receive weekly foliage reports by e-mail. The site also offers a Live Help feature with Department of Conservation staff on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. EST beginning September 18.

Updated reports can also be obtained by calling the Maine foliage hotline at 1-888-MAINE-45. Learn more about Maine's fall touring routes and outdoor activities at www.visitmaine.com.

Tom Whittington, who joined Gould in 1999, continues to ensure that all students receive a well-rounded, comprehensive curriculum from the moment they arrive on campus until graduation.

Lorenzo Baker's 27 years at Gould have given him the experience and insight required to run a thoughtful, inclusive program for community life, hiking trips, Four Point, and programs and outings are well-anticipated events that represent the core of experiential learning at Gould.

Martha Whittington's no-nonsense approach is well respected throughout the Gould community as she encourages each student to maintain the highest possible level of civil responsibility. Now entering her eighth year at the academy, Martha continues her administrative responsibilities and teaches two sections of Algebra II and trigonometry.

Adrienne Shibles brings years of experience to her new position. A former collegiate basketball player and coach, Adrienne knows the ins and outs of athletic competition, management, and sportsmanship. Adrienne also oversees all co-curricular activities.

Central to the Dean's Council work is assuring that the emphasis on developing the whole person is supported by programs that are well integrated and serve common educational objectives.

JULIE A. N. BULLARD,
SHELBY E. BULLARD

Julie Attebury Newby Bullard, 65, daughter of Luther Buman Newby, Jr. and Meredith Purdue and mother of Selby Ellen Bullard, was born in Amarillo, Texas, on July 22, 1941 and passed on Sunday, Sept. 3, 2006, in Newry.

In her youth, Julie, whose father was a pilot for Pan American Airlines, lived in Hong Kong, Mexico City, London and other international cities and traveled the world with her parents and two younger sisters, Sol and Laura. She spent the majority of her adult life in California, residing in San Francisco for 25 years before moving to Newry in 2004.

Julie had a passion for tea-cups, a fine cake crumb, antiques and her many beloved pets. She is appreciated for her charm as a hostess and made quite an impression on her international clientele with breakfast pajama parties at her two B&Bs, the Church Street B&B in San Francisco, Calif., and the Black Bear B&B in Newry.

Julie loved and raised four daughters and nine grandchildren, who called her "Daddy," and provided love and support to her four step-children.

Selby E. Bullard, 30, daughter of Julie and Dennis Dean Bullard, was born in Lakeport, Calif., on June 21, 1976 and passed on Monday, Sept. 4, 2006, in Newry.

Selby spent her life in California until she followed Julie to Maine in 2004 with her two children, Leila Camille and Elliott Maxwell, now ages 11 and 9. Selby worked in both California and Maine selling fashionable eyewear for opticians. Her clients were amazed at her ability to always find just the right frame for their faces. In Maine, she began a new career in 2006 selling real estate. Selby was an adoring mother. She infused any gathering with fun and humor and had a tremendous lust for life.

Julie and Selby are survived by their children/siblings, Leila and Elliott Magee Bullard, Georgia Trull, Brooke Bullard, Adrienne McNally, Dennine Bullard, Michele Ahl, Jason Bullard, Lynne Short and their families, including their grandchildren/nieces and nephews, 20 in all; Selby's father, Dennis D. Bullard; and paternal grandmother, Ruth Bullard; Julie's sisters, Laura Siklosy and Sol Rainbow; and many extended family members and loving friends as well as Magic (aka "Killer"), the cat.

The family will host a celebration of Julie's and Selby's lives on Saturday, Sept. 30, at Saint Gregory of NYSSA Episcopal Church, 500 De Haro Street, San Francisco, from 2 to 6 p.m. For more information, please see <http://friendsofjuliebullard.com/aboutus.html>.
